Parish Health Ministry (PHM)

Tomorrow, we acknowledge Dr. Martin Luther King Jr Day - a day to honor the life and legacy of the civil rights leader. The day serves as a National Day of Service, encouraging volunteering and community improvement in line with Dr. King's vision for a "Beloved Community." As Catholics, we can look to the USCCB Social Justice Priorities to guide us in meeting Dr King's Beloved Community vision. Here are the USCCB instructions.

The U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops has continued to speak with clarity and conviction on a wide range of social justice issues, grounding each concern in the Church's enduring belief in the God-given dignity of every human person. This conviction flows from the heart of Catholic Social Teaching, which calls the faithful to uphold life, strengthen families and communities, protect human rights, prioritize the poor, honor the dignity of work, practice solidarity, and care for God's creation. These principles shape the Bishops' responses to the moral challenges facing our nation and world.

One of the most active areas of USCCB advocacy remains immigration and refugee protection. The Bishops remind us that the Church in the United States is historically an immigrant Church, and that welcoming the stranger is a direct expression of the Gospel. As Jesus teaches, "I was a stranger and you welcomed me" (Matthew 25:35). The USCCB emphasizes that every person is made in the image of God and deserves to be treated with dignity, respect, and compassion. Through initiatives such as Justice for Immigrants and You Are Not Alone, the Bishops defend the right to migrate when life becomes unsafe or unsustainable and urge policies that protect family unity and humanitarian relief. They have reaffirmed that refugee resettlement is a "work of mercy," echoing the biblical call: "You shall treat the stranger who resides with you as the native-born... for you were strangers in the land of Egypt" (Leviticus 19:34). The bishops have also spoken forcefully about gun violence, urging Catholics to embrace a spirituality of peacebuilding in a time of national tension. This message reflects Christ's own blessing: "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God" (Matthew 5:9). At recent social ministry gatherings, USCCB leaders encouraged the faithful to work for "greater justice," supporting community-based violence prevention and advocating for reasonable safety measures that protect human life. On the issue of racial justice, the USCCB continues to affirm that racism is a sin that wounds the Body of Christ. Scripture reminds us that "there is no longer Jew or Greek... for all of you are one in Christ Jesus" (Galatians 3:28). Drawing from their pastoral letters and diocesan resources, the bishops call parishes to become communities that "believe, act, and teach justice," confronting prejudice and working toward healing and reconciliation.

Economic concerns remain central to the Bishops' domestic justice work. They highlight the moral dimensions of worker rights, fair wages, housing access, and support for families and the poor, echoing the biblical mandate: "Woe to those who trample upon the poor" (Amos 8:4) and "The laborer deserves his wages" (Luke 10:7). The USCCB reminds society that economic systems must serve the human person, not the other way around, and that the needs of the poor and vulnerable must come first.

The USCCB also continues to elevate the Church's teaching on care for creation, inspired by Pope Francis' encyclical Laudato Si'. This work reflects Psalm 24:1: "The earth is the Lord's and all it holds". The Bishops emphasize the moral responsibility to protect the environment, safeguard vulnerable communities, and promote sustainable practices that honor God's creation.

Finally, the Bishops maintain a strong focus on global solidarity, urging all Catholics to look beyond national borders and work for justice across the Americas and throughout the world. St. Paul's reminder resonates here: "If one member suffers, all suffer together" (1 Corinthians 12:26). The USCCB recent gatherings have highlighted the importance of human rights, peacebuilding, and international development, calling us all to recognize every person as a brother or sister in Christ.

Taken together, these priorities form a coherent vision; Much like Dr King's Beloved Community: A call for Catholics to build a society rooted in mercy, justice, and the inherent dignity of every person.

Whether addressing immigration, racial justice, economic inequality, violence, environmental stewardship, or global peace, the USCCB invites this Church to live out the Gospel with courage and compassion.

The Scriptures call us again and again to recognize the sacredness of every person: the migrant seeking safety, the family struggling to make ends meet, the community yearning for peace, the earth groaning under the weight of misuse. These are not distant concerns; they are places where God is already present, waiting for us to respond with courage, tenderness, and hope.

To follow Christ in these matters is to allow our hearts to be stretched. It means letting compassion interrupt our routines, letting justice shape our choices, and letting mercy guide our conversations. It means remembering that discipleship is not only about what we believe but how we love; especially when that love costs us something.

As we reflect on the Bishops' call to justice, we might ask ourselves: Where is Christ inviting me to welcome, to heal, to protect, to advocate, to accompany?

Where is the Holy Spirit nudging me to see more clearly, to act more boldly, to love more generously?
In these questions, we discover that social justice is not a program. It is a way of being Church; a way of being Christ's presence in the world.

Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

The symbols and actions of baptism evolved around the experience of adults dying to old patterns of life and rising from the waters of baptism as new creations. As for newborn babies, at first it was desired to wait until the following Easter, when they could be baptized, anointed with chrism, and given a taste of the Eucharist in association with adults. The Church was always willing to baptize adults in emergency situations outside the Easter timetable, and in time, since infancy itself was a life-threatening situation, the baptism of babies became commonplace. As with the "emergency" adult baptisms, it was required that parents bring the child, as soon as health was recovered, to the bishop for the full menu of sacraments.

The very real fear of death for infants thus created a situation in which the three sacraments drifted apart from each other, and away from their original, adult celebration at Easter. Today, at last, we know a great deal about how our practices evolved. This knowledge is reshaping how we celebrate Easter, how we receive adult faith, and how we structure the faith journey of children.

SEVEN SISTERS APOSTOLATE

We will be starting womens' prayer groups at Saint John Neumann Parish specifically for the intentions of Fr. Dan and Fr. Stiteler. The plan is to offer prayer for them in the form of holy hours using the simple structure created by the Seven Sisters Apostolate (Seven Sisters apostolate.org). One priest, seven women praying one hour, seven days each week. The Seven Sisters Apostolate was started by Janette Howell in 2011. Janette sensed a "nudge" to pray more frequently and intentionally for her pastor, Fr. Joseph R Johnson in Minneapolis, MN. Since that time, the membership has grown to have at least one group praying in every state of the United States and in many countries overseas. There are groups praying for the intentions of bishops, archbishops and cardinals. There are even 8 groups praying daily, specifically for the intentions of Pope Leo IV!! The goal of each group is to have seven women volunteering to pray a holy hour for the intentions of a specific priest one day a week. This generous commitment of prayer is ideally for a period of one year but can remain open-ended in time as each individual senses the call to continue. The plan here at SJN is to develop a group praying specifically for the intentions of Fr. Dan initially, and then to develop a group praying for the intentions of Fr. Stiteler. Would YOU like to be involved in this unique prayer ministry? Are you experiencing a "nudge" from the Holy Spirit?

If you are a woman who senses a call to join one of these groups or simply would like more information about what is involved, please contact Kathy Birmingham at 717-397-8647. The hope is to start this ministry by the end of January in 2026. Thank you for your willingness to respond to this call.

Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

Behold the Lamb of God

I wonder if anyone understood John the Baptist when he called Jesus the Lamb of God. Did they associate that name with the paschal lamb whose blood protected the Israelites from the Angel of Death? After Jesus' death and resurrection, the apostles began to understand that Jesus' blood, shed on the cross, freed us all from sin and death. Yet here is the Baptizer already acting like a disciple before Jesus has gathered any disciples or even begun to preach. In today's Gospel, John the Baptist gives us some hints about discipleship.

First, John trusts God with things he does not understand. He says twice that he did not know Jesus, yet he trusts God's revelation that Jesus would "baptize with the Holy Spirit" (John 1:33). We also may not always understand where God is leading us. If you have lost a loved one, are looking for work when no one is hiring, or are dealing with a serious illness, this is the time to trust that God still loves and cares for you.

John also knew that doing God's work meant that God was working through him. Originally John baptized others as a sign of repentance, but he soon came to see that his real work was to make Jesus "known to Israel" (John 1:31). When we try to do what God wants, it is good to remember that God is the one in control and who decides what the result will be. What looks like failure to us can be success in God's eyes.

John's third hint teaches us that a disciple shares his or her faith in God. So John testifies that Jesus is the Son of God. While that sounds obvious to us, it took courage to say that to people who would have thought it blasphemy. Even today, when Jesus is known throughout the world, we still need to share our faith experiences so those without faith may be attracted to it. Even those with faith can be encouraged by our sharing as well. You may be surprised to find that your own faith deepens the more you share it with others. As we point out the Lamb of God to those who don't know him, we get to know him better ourselves.

REMEMBERING THE HOLOCAUST & UNDERSTANDING AND CHALLENGING ANTISEMITISM IN OUR TIME

The Diocese of Harrisburg invites the community to a special program on International Holocaust Remembrance Day. Remembering the Holocaust & Understanding and Challenging Antisemitism in Our Time will be an educational program and a prayerful observance dedicated to remembering the victims of the Holocaust, as well as reflecting on the Holocaust's enduring moral lessons.

The program includes prayer and a personal reflection from Elaine Culbertson, the daughter of Holocaust survivors, offering a powerful witness to the importance of memory, education, and moral responsibility.

This online event provides an opportunity to learn from history, reflect in faith, and renew our commitment to human dignity.

This program is presented in partnership with the Pennsylvania Jewish Coalition and the Anti-Defamation League, Philadelphia Office.

Online Webinar: Human Trafficking and Major Sporting Events - January 22

In partnership with the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, the New Jersey Catholic Conference, the Pennsylvania Catholic Conference, and the SOAP Project, we invite you to a 90-minute webinar dedicated to exploring the intersection of human trafficking and major sporting events. January marks National Human Trafficking Prevention Month, a time when we come together to raise awareness about the grave injustice of human trafficking. This year, our focus is on major sporting events, which unfortunately can create conditions where trafficking risks increase. With the Super Bowl scheduled for Sunday, February 8th in San Jose, California, this discussion is both timely and urgent. Opening Prayer and Reflection led by His Excellency Oscar Cantú, Bishop of San Jose, California, who will offer a reflection on the Church's role in combating human trafficking. For more information and to register, please visit: <http://www.hbgdiocese.org/htwebinar>.

Catholic Social Teaching Symposium - January 31

Registration is open! Rooted in the dignity of every human person, the Diocese of Harrisburg's inaugural Catholic Social Teaching Symposium is a day dedicated to exploring the Church's response to some of the most urgent issues of our time. Through panels, breakout sessions, and practical discussions, participants will deepen their understanding of human dignity, solidarity, and our call to serve the common good. Together, we will reflect, learn, and discern how we can bring Christ's love into our communities through action, advocacy, and encounter.

All are welcome to register and attend. The cost is $20 per person which includes lunch. For the complete schedule, details, and to register, please visit

<https://www.hbgdiocese.org/event/catholic-social-teaching-symposium/>

Mass in American Sign Language - February 15

A Mass in American Sign Language without voice interpretation will be celebrated on Sunday, February 15 at 4:00 pm at Saint Joseph Catholic Church, (400 E. Simpson St.) Mechanicsburg. No voice interpretation will occur. The celebrant and homilist will be Father Mike Depcik, OSFS, and Chaplain for the Deaf Ministry for the Archdiocese of Baltimore. Father Depcik will be available for the sacrament of confession in ASL-only.

Following Mass there will be a time of fellowship and dinner. Participants are encouraged to confirm their attendance by emailing Dawn Rose at love2kids3@gmail.com. All are welcome.
